(LIId YEAR.) THE (No. 2595.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1796.

VIENNA, July 3.

THE intelligence received three days ago from the Rhine, of the ſucceſs of his royal highneſs the archduke Charles, has cauſed much joy in our court. [One would imagine that the miniſters of this poor deluded emperor make him believe that his armies, by loſing battles, are gaining victories over the republicans, ſhould that be the caſe, we confidently promiſe him a continuance of joy. Remark of the French editor.]

If we give credit to a letter from Landſhut, in Bavaria, dated the 18th of July, there are actually in Bavaria, and in the Upper Palatinate, upwards of 1200 emigrant prieſts.

We find by the letter, that particular notice was taken of one M. de la Galaiſure, a French biſhop, who had reſided for ſeveral years paſt at Landſhut. It appears that this prelate at different times ordered all the French prieſts ſecretly to buy up all kinds of proviſion, which he intended to tranſport to the army of the prince of Conde. This ſlight manœuvre having been diſcovered, the proviſion which yet remained in ſtore was confiſcated, and the biſhop himſelf was commanded by the government to depart from the city, without loſs of time, which he did inſtantly, but has ſince been arreſted at Munich, being accuſed of other treaſonable practices.

The prince of Cobourg is to put himſelf at the head of an army of thirty thouſand Ruſſians, who are to march towards the frontiers of Gallicia; they are to be divided into two bodies, one of which is to cover that province, and the other to terminate the differences which always ſubſiſt bewden the Pruſſian and Auſtrian commiſſioners, reſpecting the debarkation of its limits. Although this news has been handed to us as authentic, we venture to ſay it will not be confirmed.

HAGUE, June 7.

The repreſentatives of the province of Utrecht have reſolved, that for the future no eccleſiaſtical ſociety ſhall enjoy greater privileges than another; that all ſalaries to profeſſors of divinity, preachers or other miniſters of the church which are paid from the public treaſuries, ſhall ceaſe at the expiration of four months; that all benefices out of which ſuch payments are made ſhall be declared the property of the province, as the founders and firſt poſſeſſors had very different views from thoſe of the preſent; that all churches, meeting houſes, ſchools, that are not ſupported by private funds, ſhall be conſidered as the property of the province, that the churches, however, ſhall be left open to the reformed congregations.

BASLE, July 18.

The miniſter whom the duke of Wurtemberg has ſent here to conclude a peace with the French republic is named Wechter. It is ſaid that the duke of Wurtemberg has put himſelf at the head of the militia of the dutchy, to repreſs the diſorders and robberies committed by the army of Conde, a diviſion of which, ſeparated from the Auſtrians, have given themſelves up to the moſt horrible exceſſes. It is added, that the Auſtrians have burnt all the magazines that were in the Brifgaw, and on the frontiers of the margravate of Baden. This loſs is valued at ſeveral millions of florins.

The main body of Conde's troops, which formed a part of the Auſtrian army, beaten at Friedourg, is retired to Schuffhauſen. Two days ago three or four thouſand French, who were at Huningue, have paſſed the Rhine, and penetrated into the margravate of Baden, without experiencing the ſmalleſt reſiſtance from the Auſtrians, who much weakened fled precipitately at their approach. A bridge is conſtructed under the cannon of Huningue, which ſerves for the tranſportation of heavy artillery.

It is ſaid that M. Barthelemy has had conferences with the marquis de Gallo; but it is believed that his frequent converſations with the miniſters of Naples and Holland, have for their object the preliminaries of peace with the emperor.

SUABIA, July 17.

The Auſtrian armies, in the countries of Baden and Wurtemberg, have ſince the 10th been again compelled to retreat, as they ſuffered a conſiderable loſs on the 9th. On the 10th they left Carlſruhe, which the French entered on the evening of the next day. In the action near Wilhad, on the 9th, (according to official accounts from Stutgard) the Auſtrians loſt about 1500 men in killed, wounded and priſoners.—Several ſquadrons of the Saxon huſſars, and the chaſſeurs of Weymar, likewiſe ſuffered very much. The Auſtrian army is retiring through the dutchy of Wurtemberg towards the Danube, and were encamped on the 14th inſtant between Kanſtadt, Ludwigſburg, and Weibling[illegible], whence their army retreated in two columns through the Villthal and Remthal. The city of Stutgard on the 15th and 16th was obliged to deliver 60,000 pounds of bread to the Auſtrian camp.

The French have taken poſſeſſion of Oberndorf and Oberenzthal. The head quarters of the archduke Charles were on the 14th at Vallingen, have been removed to Heilbron.

VERONA, June 27.

This morning a detachment of 1200 French entered Legage, a Venetian fort. The republicans now occupy the right bank of the Adige, and the Auſtrians the left. From the movements of the Auſtrians, it ſhould ſeem that they intend again to act offenſively.

PARIS, July 27.

The deſertion of the regiment of Bergen is officially announced—this regiment is almoſt annihilated.

We are aſſured that the French are in Manheim, and that a commiſſioner is arrived at Baſle from the emperor, to make overtures of peace to our ambaſſador.

There is a report that Richery has engaged the Engliſh fleet off Cadiz.

Deputies are arrived at Genoa from Sardinia, to ſolicit the aſſiſtance of the French in eſtabliſhing that iſland as a republic.

Letters from Weſel poſitively announce, that the king of Pruſſia has offered his mediation to the directory, to bring about a general pacification.

LONDON, July 7.

All the letters from Italy are full of bitter complaints againſt the conduct of Buonaparte. They charge him with a wanton inſolence in tone and manners, with an inſatiable avidity, and the utmoſt duplicity; the latter is indeed ſufficiently proved by the ſtriking contraſt beween his fraternal proclamations and vexatious proceedings. The people, exaſperated by the pillage of the churches, the exorbitant contributions impoſed on them, and the impriſonment of the prieſts, nobles, and, in ſhort, of all the moſt diſtinguiſhed perſons in the country, on pretence of keeping them as hoſtages, are every where preparing violent meaſures. What has already come to paſs at Milan, Pavia, Novi, &c. is only a prelude of what may happen in future. Our Anglo-French prints, which have with ſo much complacency celebrated the moderation of the new Vandals, may probably ſoon be brought to recant.

The chancellor of the exchequer has happily prevailed on the bank to advance 200 oool. in order to pay off one quarter's arrear of the civil liſt. Mr. Pitt was obliged to make three journies to the bank before he perſuaded them to make his advance. The loan is given, we ſuppoſe, on the ſecurity of the growing produce of the conſolidated fund. This may be truly called a drop in the ocean of national neceſſities; but ſo far as it goes, it is not very repurable in the directors of the bank to do; ſince it is an advance of money without the authority of parliament; and may pave the way for further deviations of the ſame kind. A miniſter has only to prevail upon monied men to aſſiſt him with funds, to make all the cheques of our conſtitution waſte paper.

August 2.

From the London Gazette—July 30.

Downing ſtreet, July 30.

The letter, of which the following is an extract, was received from colonel Graham, by the right honourable lord Grenville, his majeſty's principal ſecretary of ſtate for foreign affairs, dated Roveredo, July 4, 1796.

"On the 30th ult. I had the honour of informing your lordſhip, that the enemy made an unſucceſsful attack on Monte Baldo on the 28th, ſince that all has remained quiet. Marſhal Wurmſer arrived here this morning.

Downing-ſtreet, July 30.

The letter, of which the following is an extract, received from lieutenant-colonel Craufurd, by the right honourable lord Grenville, his majeſty's principal ſecretary of ſtate for foreign affairs, dated head quarters of his royal highneſs the archduke Charles of Auſtria, Ettlingen, near Pfortzheim, July 11, 1796.

I have the honour to inform your lordſhip, that, on the 7th and 8th inſtant, the archduke remained in poſſeſſion of Ettlingen, in order to give time for the arrival at Pforzheim of the Saxons, who were advancing from Graben to reinforce his royal highneſs's army—and the troops that had been detached into the mountains, under the command of general Keim, to cover the left, was ordered to take its principal poſition at Frewen-Alb.

The Saxons reached Pforzheim in the night of the 7th. On the 8th, the diſpoſition was made to attack general Moreau, on the 10th in the poſition of the Murg, at Raſtadt, Kapenheim and Gertzbach, and on the 9th, while the preparatory movements were executing, in order to bring the troops forward to the different points from whence they were to advance the next morning, the enemy forced back the archduke's advanced poſts with a part of their army, while their principal force attacked general Keim. His royal highneſs immediately ſupported his advanced poſts, and was victorious on his right, and along his whole front; but general Keim, after having made a moſt obſtinate reſiſtance, was obliged to yield to the ſuperiority of numbers, and he retired to Pforzheim. The Saxons, who were in march to cover that general's left flank, did the ſame; and as this unfortunate circumſtance gave the enemy poſſeſſion of all the paſſes in the mountains, on the archduke's left, his royal highneſs found himſelf under the neceſſity of marching with his main army to Pforzheim on the 10th, where he is now encamped.

The Auſtrians loſt on this occaſion, about 1600 men and four pieces of cannon. The loſs of the French cannot be exactly aſcertained—but muſt have been very conſiderable.

The prince of Conde's corps, which behaved with great bravery, was at Villingen on the 8th, the date of the laſt accounts that were received from it. The Auſtrian general Frolich ſtill remained in the Briſgaw.

The enemy has paſſed the Lahn, and the army, which was left for the defence of that part of the country, has retired to the poſition of Bergen, having thrown proper garriſons into Mayence and Ehrenbreitſtein.

QUEBEC, September 8.

On Tueſday laſt, about four o'clock in the afternoon, a dreadful fire broke out, in a ſtable belonging to the honourable Thomas Dunn, in Saint Louis-ſtreet, which ſeemed for ſome time to threaten deſtruction to the greater part of the town. The wind blowing freſh from the weſt, inſtantly communicated the flames to the houſe of the hon. chief juſtice Monk, and to that adjoining on the eaſt ſide. While theſe were burning with great violence, and it was feared would communicate the flames to the adjacent houſes on both ſides of the ſtreet, the fire was obſerved to have caught in the convent of the Recollets, at the lower end of the ſtreet, at leaſt two hundred yards from where it began. In a few minutes the roof and ſpire of the church fell down, and the whole convent was in a blaze. At that moment it ſeemed very doubtful whether the caſtle, or even the lower town could be ſaved; but the wind ſhifting a little to the northward, carried the flames up Carrier ſtreet, facing the Chateau garden, where the fire continued to rage, burning down all before it, until it reached the corner of the back ſtreet, which leads up towards Mount Carmel, where at laſt it ſtopped. The houſe of H. W. Ryland, Eſquire, oppoſite ſide of ſaid ſtreet, eſcaped unhurt. Thirteen or fourteen houſes in all, are entirely burned down—among which are, two belonging to chief juſtice Monk, three to Berthelot Dartigny, Eſq; and two to Mrs. Cugnet.

During the conflagration, the roofs of many other houſes alſo catched fire, which were ſaved by timely aſſiſtance, particularly that of Thomas Ainſlie, Eſq; facing the parade, the houſe of aſſembly, and ſeveral houſes in the lower town.

It is impoſſible at preſent, to form an eſtimate of the damage ſuſtained, on this diſtreſſing occaſion, in houſes and other property; nor have we been able to learn, with certainty, how the fire originated; though it appears probable that it was cauſed by ſome boys at play, who in amuſing themſelves with gunpowder, had ſet fire to the hay in the ſtable, of which there was unfortunately a very large quantity.

PORTLAND, September 14.

Captain Bucknam of this port ſailed from Tobago, Auguſt 11th. The Engliſh at that iſland were in daily expectation of an invaſion by the French from Cayenne; as they had certain accounts of ſix ſail of the line, with a number of frigates having 6000 regular troops on board, being, by the laſt intelligence, in the mouth of the river Surrinam, bound to Tobago. The Engliſh had 1700 troops on the iſland beſides militia; and the Fury ſloop of war was lying off and on the coaſt. It was the opinion there, that the iſland could not make reſiſtance againſt the ſuperior force, which was deſtined againſt it.

BOSTON, September 23.

From FRANCE.

Capt. Bennett, who arrived on Wedneſday, from Bayonne, in France, had a paſſage of 44 days. The only paper that he brought out with him, and which was of the 3d of Auguſt, he gave to the lieutenant of a French frigate, which boarded him. That paper contained accounts of the capture of Francfort—and mentioned, that after its firſt capture, the Auſtrians again got poſſeſſion of it; but the French ſucceeded in retaking and holding the city. After the capture of Francfort, the ſiege of Mentz commenced—A war between Spain and England was expected. An Engliſh frigate had been taken by the Terrible, of 74 guns, and carried into a small harbour called the Pallaget. Provisions of every kind were cheap; and brandy about seven or eight livres per velt.

FEVER at CHARLESTON.

Extract of a letter from Charleston, S. C. August 31.

"It is impossible to describe to you the wretched situation of this city—The fever rages with accumulated fury. For several days past the deaths have exceeded thirty; and the average for a month past will be twenty. Business is at a stand."

NEW-YORK, September 24.

We have been favoured with the following extract of a letter from an American in Lisbon to his brother in this city, dated

"Lisbon, August 11, 1796.

"Ever since I have been here, there has been the greatest appearance of a rupture between Spain and England. It has at length taken place: Spain has shut its ports against England, and it was reported yesterday, and currently believed, that a part of the Spanish fleet had joined in conjunction with the French—their destination unknown.

"The French have been uniformly successful in Italy; and the present appearance is, that the pope will be destroyed, or will be forced to make peace with the French upon their own terms. Indeed, they have already levied heavy contributions upon several of his provinces, and made a demand upon them of 20,000,000 florins. On the Rhine, they are equally successful. If this campaign ends as successfully as it has begun, the French will have no enemy in Europe that will be able to contend with them.

"The Portuguese are in expectation of a visit from them though the territories of Spain. In consequence, the greatest exertions are making to raise an army of 50,000 men, to march to their frontiers, by the first of October."

Extract of a letter from a mercantile house in Lisbon, to his friend in this city, dated the 11th of August.

"The political situation of Portugal becomes very critical, since it is no longer to be doubted, that war will immediately take place between England and Spain. A Spanish squadron sailed on the 4th instant from Cadiz, in company with the French vessels of war which have been so long there, under the command of admiral Richery. It is said also, that the French have demanded a passage through Spain, for 50,000 troops, nominally destined against Gibraltar."

September 26.

The "Courier of the Legislative Body, and of the War," printed at Paris July 13, was put into the hands of the editor of the Argus yesterday—it contains among other articles which have already been given, the following IMPORTANT LETTER from general Moreau. No letter from this brave general has yet appeared in the New-York papers of so late a date. The conclusion of a report of the said general, appears to have been written about that time, as it relates to the atchievements of the same general, viz. St. Cyr.

Army of the RHINE and MOSELLE.

Head quarters at Baden, 18 Messidor (July 6)
4th year of the French republic.

The general in chief to the Executive Directory.

Citizens Directors,

In my last report, I gave an account of my project for marching against Rastadt and Freudenstadt.

At day break yesterday morning, the troops began to move; that under the general Desaix to attack all that it finds between the Rhine and the Mountains, and general St. Cyr to attack the position of Freudenstadt.

This last affair was exceedingly brisk. The reinforcements of the Austrians had arrived; the arms of our troops, after the severe rains, were in a frightful state, and could not be fired. General La Roche, commanding this attack, ordered his infantry to fix their bayonets, and they carried the works after a most vigorous resistance on the part of the enemy, whose loss, in killed and wounded, was very considerable.—We took about 100 prisoners, of whom several are cadets. General La Roche, whose bravery merits the greatest eulogies, was wounded in the hand by a musket ball. The 28th brigade of light infantry, and the other troops employed in this attack, conducted themselves with the greatest bravery.

The march of the left wing was attended by a continual combat, from Bubl to Off. The enemy at this last village in particular, made the most obstinate resistance. Their position was excellent, its left at Baden, its right to Oibach.—The left was finally forced by the mountains, the charge beat at the attack in front of the village of Off, and we finally were rendered masters of it. We took here a captain and about 80 men. This attack was planned by general St. Suzanne and adjutant-general Decean, under the orders of general Desaix. General Delmas has equally chased all he could find between the Rhine and the Oibach.

The night and the great fatigue of the troops forced me to postpone the attack of the enemy's positions at Rastadt, Rupperstheim, and Guerbach, until the next day. The general officers and the troops continue to give the greatest proofs of talents and courage. All the armies have distinguished themselves. I made on the field of battle, a sergeant of a corporal of 17th half brigade of light infantry, who, himself made three prisoners.

General Farine, on the same day, carried the entrenched works at Ettersch, in the valley of Kinzig; general St. Cyr supported this movement by sending three troops to march to Oppenau.

Health and Respect.

[Signed] MOREAU.

PHILADELPHIA, September 22.

Captain Botwell, lately arrived at New London, was informed at St. Bartholemews, by an American captain of his acquaintance, directly from Martinico, that a British vessel arrived at the latter island on the 11th ult. in a short passage from England, with dispatches for the governor, containing the important intelligence of Great-Britain having declared war against Spain. The frigate lay off and on while a boat was sent on shore, when she proceeded to the leeward.

NORFOLK, September 15.

From Antigua papers received by the Anne Taylor, from Antigua, the following is extracted:

ST. JOHN'S (Antigua) August 16.

We are happy to learn that tranquillity is nearly restored in Grenada—but at St. Vincents, the Caraibs continue to be troublesome, having lately burnt several places, and surprised the proprietors of two estates in the night, whom they carried off.

It is reported that seven prizes were lately carried into Basseterre, Gaudaloupe, in one day, but this, we hope, is unfounded, as from the number of pendants in these seas we cannot think it possible.

GEORGE-TOWN, September 27.

A fire was on last Sunday morning about sunrise discovered in High-street, of this town, in the building, part of which has been occupied as a dancing room. It continued to rage till about ten o'clock, when the exertions of the citizens assisted by a number of benevolent strangers, and favoured by the serenity of the weather, stope its progress. Eight houses were destroyed, and loss of property sustained to a considerable amount.

No language can sufficiently express the torpid and entire insensibility to the feelings of humanity—to the motives of public welfare, and to their own interest, which some persons exhibited, with the scenes of extending ruin and distress before their eyes. But the gratitude of the town is due to a number of persons, who distinguished themselves in the cause of humanity by their active intrepidity—their ardent and persevering efforts.

We are happy to be informed that subscriptions are making for the relief of the sufferers on this melancholy occasion.

ANNAPOLIS, October 6.

Allen Quynn and Philip Barton Key, Esquires, are elected delegates to represent this city in the next general assembly.

In pursuance of a decree of the honourable the Chancellor of Maryland, will be EXPOSED to PUBLIC SALE, on Saturday the 29th instant, for the purposes declared in the said decree,

THE four following tracts of LAND, devised by ROBERT HEBBLY COUATS, late of Charles county, deceased, to his son DANIEL COUATS, to wit: Part of THOMAS's CHOICE, containing one hundred acres; VERINO, containing fifty acres, more or less; HAW POINT, containing fixty acres, more or less, and LIVERPOOL POINT, containing thirty-two acres, more or less; the above-mentioned tracts of land are situate in Dorham Parish, in Charles county, upon the Patowmack river, about fifty miles below the Federal city, and from every information that I have received respecting their quality, they are good farming and planting lands, and have a sufficiency of wood and timber to support them. The sale will begin at 12 o'clock, on the premises, and the whole of the lands will be sold in one lot, or separately, as may be deemed most advantagous to the persons concerned. The purchaser or purchasers must give bond with security for the payment of one half the purchase money within nine months, and the residue within fifteen months, with interest, from the day of sale.

Annapolis, October 3, 1796.

Five Pounds Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber a negro man named STEPHEN, about 28 years old, 5 feet 9 inches high, of a yellowish complexion, and a little knock-kneed; he had on a gray fearnought over jacket, with white cuffs, and the pocket-holes bound with white cloth, a brown linen shirt, coarse linen trousers much wore and ragged at the knees, old shoes, with hobnails in the soles, and broad headed nails in the heels, and an old coarse hat, gathered at the brim so as to make it turn up a little all round. Whoever takes up the said negro, and secures him so as his master gets him again, shall receive the above reward, and all reasonable charges, if brought home, from

JAMES CHESTON.

West River, September 28, 1796.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on Friday night the 16th instant, a dark mulatto woman slave named NAN, about twenty-one years of age, stout made, sullen-look, has no hair on the top of her head, and always wears her hat for fear of being discovered; had on country made cloaths; took with her a light coloured petticoat and jacket, French fashion; she was raised by JOHN FOARDE, Charles county, state of Maryland. I have reason to believe some evil person has took her away. For taking her up in town I will give eight dollars, if twenty miles twelve dollars, if forty miles fifteen, and if out of the county the above reward, and all reasonable charges on delivering her to me, No. 41, Howard-street.

September 20, 1796.

Will be EXPOSED to PUBLIC SALE, on Tueſday the 11th day of October next, if fair, if not the firſt fair day thereafter, on the premiſes for ready cash only,

THAT very valuable PLANTATION, ſituate in Anne-Arundel county, on the ſouth ſide of South river, known by the name of BEARD'S POINT, about four miles from the city of Annapolis, twenty-ſix from Baltimore-town by land, and forty by water, five from London-town ferry, and ſeven from Queen-Anne; this plantation contains about 176 acres, is well adapted to Indian corn, tobacco and ſmall grain, is well timbered with oak, cheſnut, and pine in abundance, all lying convenient to the water, added to which is the conveniency of its lying and bounding on the water, ſo that one half of the land ſtands enclоſed without the expence of fencing; this plantation has two tenements thereon, one of which has an excellent apple orchard, beſide one of the beſt ſprings of water in the county; alſo the inſpection houſe for tobacco, with all conveniencies for the ſame, with a good deep landing for taking off or loading tobacco, or other kinds of wares; an excellent ſtrong houſe, well finiſhed, with three rooms above, and one fire place, with a ſtore below, and a good deep cellar under the whole; there is alſo a kitchen, ſtable, and corn houſe adjoining, beſide other out houſes and a good pale garden, with the advantage of fiſh and fowl of all kinds in their reſpective ſeaſons.

On the ſame day will be offered for ſale, on the premiſes, for caſh, that valuable plantation, formerly the property of Henry May, late of Anne Arundel county, deceaſed, lying in the county aforeſaid, near South river church, well known to be one of the firſt ſtands in the county for a blackſmith's ſhop, with all the improvements thereon, ſuch as a good frame dwelling houſe, kitchen, ſtable, and corn houſe, with two rooms below for meat and cider, or lumber, &c. with a ſmith's ſhop, ready built to hand, a few fruit trees, and one of the moſt fertile pieces of meadow land in the county, which in a common year will yield from eight to ten tun of hay, partly timothy.

Alſo on the ſame day, if time will permit, will be offered for ſale, for caſh only, a lot of land, of one acre, with a frame houſe thereon, called the School-houſe, lying in the county aforeſaid, adjoining the land of Mr. Benjamin Welch, major Thomas Harwood's quarter, at Beard's creek, and governor Stone's plantation called Stepney, on the road leading from Queen-Anne to London-town ferry.

And, on the day following, will alſo be expoſed to public ſale, for caſh, at Beard's Habitation, the late ſeat of Richard Beard, of the county aforeſaid, deceaſed, a very valuable ſtock, conſiſting of brood mares, fillies, colts, ſaddle and plough horſes, horned cattle, conſiſting in oxen, milch cows and calves, and a few fine heifers, of an excellent breed to raiſe from, hogs, ſheep, blackſmith's tools, ſtone maſon's ditto, houſehold and kitchen furniture of all kinds, and a variety of farming utenſils, &c. &c.

JOHN BEARD, } Adminiſtrators.

N. B. The ſale will be continued from day to day till all is ſold, and a good and indiſputable title will be given to the purchaſer or purchaſers of all or any part of the land. The ſoil and improvements may be viewed at any time by application to John or Stephen Beard, jun.

THE ſubſcriber intends to petition the general aſſembly of Maryland, at their next ſeſſion, to relieve him from debts which he is unable to pay.

SAMUEL T. DYSON.

Charles county, Sept. 8, 1796.

THE ſubſcriber, now in the cuſtody of the ſheriff of Prince George's county, intends to petition the next general aſſembly of the ſtate of Maryland for an act to relieve him from all his debts, on his delivering his property to be divided among his creditors, and the overplus, if any, to be returned to him, or his order.

ROBERT KEY.

September 16, 1796.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

WERE ſtolen from this city, on Sunday evening laſt, two bay HORSES, remarkably well matched, four years old laſt ſpring, about fourteen hands three inches high, hanging manes and ſwitch tails, which are long; each of them has a ſmall ſtar in his forehead, and one of them a ſmall white ſlip on the noſe; one is branded S I the other branded $\frac{2}{G}$ on their buttocks; they have been newly ſhod, and are remarkably fat. Whoever will deliver to me the ſaid horſes ſhall receive Twenty Dollars, and whoever apprehends the thief or thieves, who ſtole them, ſhall receive Thirty, on their conviction.

J. H. STONE.

Annapolis, September 20, 1796.

NOTICE is hereby given, that THOMAS BOYD, junior, and BENJAMIN BOYD, of Prince-George's county, intend to petition the enſuing general aſſembly for an act to relieve them from debts contracted ſeverally, or jointly, which they are unable to pay.

September 21, 1796.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the VESTRY of SHREWSBURY PARISH intend petitioning the next general aſſembly for an act authoriſing them to ſell the GLEBE of ſaid pariſh, alſo to ſet on foot a ſcheme of a lottery, for the purpoſe of raiſing a ſum of money to repair the Pariſh church, and to finiſh and complete a new chapel they have begun, and are unable to finiſh.

By order of the Veſtry,

JOHN HURTT, Regiſter.

Kent county, Sept. 14, 1796.

Annapolis, Auguſt 2, 1796.

ON the firſt Monday in October next an election will be held for four delegates to repreſent Anne Arundel county in the general aſſembly; and one member to repreſent the ſecond diſtrict in the congreſs of the United States.

And on the ſecond Wedneſday in November, an election will be held for one elector, to elect the preſident and Vice-Preſident of the United States.

RICHARD HARWOOD, Sheriff of Anne-Arundel county.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the corporation and the inhabitants of George-town intend to petition the next general aſſembly of Maryland, to veſt in ſaid corporation powers to increaſe their right of taxation, and of granting ordinary and retailing licences, and appropriating the money therefrom ariſing, and alſo of applying the money ariſing from fines and forfeitures within ſaid town to the uſe thereof, and to grant them a power to ſue for ſuch land as they may claim within the precincts of ſaid town, and to veſt in them the right of the county wharf in ſaid town, and to enable them to improve or diſpoſe of the ground and water upon Patowmack river, at the termination of the ſtreets and alleys of ſaid town.

THE debtors to the State of Maryland for confiſcated property purchaſed, and others who have inſtalled their debts, will pleaſe to obſerve, that their next inſtalment becomes due on the firſt day of December next, and it is expected that the payments will be made at the Treaſury of the Weſtern Shore on or before that day, otherwiſe proceſs will certainly iſſue againſt every delinquent on the day following; it hath been a practice heretofore to delay iſſuing againſt the delinquents until after the 20th day of February following, as no ſuch indulgence will be given for the enſuing inſtalment, I hope the debtors will be punctual in making their payments. In all caſes where property is taken in execution for the uſe of the ſtate, I ſhall fix a place and day of ſale, where I ſhall attend in perſon to enforce the ſale, unleſs payment be made.

The ſeveral county clerks will pleaſe to take notice, that agreeably to law their returns and payments ſhould be made on the firſt day of November in each year, and as ſeveral of them have heretofore neglected to comply, I will certainly put the law in force againſt thoſe who fail in making their returns and payments on the firſt day of November next.

The ſheriffs are requeſted to pay up their reſpective balances on or before the firſt day of November next, otherwiſe I ſhall take immediate ſteps thereafter for the recovery of the ſame.

WILLIAM MARBURY, Agent for the State of Maryland.

THE commiſſioners appointed by act of aſſembly to receive ſubſcriptions to the BANK of BALTIMORE give notice to the ſtockholders, that in conſequence of the firſt inſtalment being actually paid, an election for FIFTEEN DIRECTORS will take place on Monday morning the 10th day of October next, at the houſe intended for this bank.

Baltimore, September 2, 1796.

Forty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the ſubſcriber, living near Montgomery county court-houſe, on the 27th of July laſt, a very likely negro man named PATRICK; he is about nineteen or twenty years of age, five feet nine or ten inches high, of a bright complexion, and has the firſt joint of one of his middle fingers very much contracted, ſuppoſed to be occaſioned either by a cut or a burn; he had on and took with him when he went away, a blue broad-cloth coat with a red velvet cape, a pair of nankeen breeches, with ſtrings at the knees, one pair ditto gray caſimer, much worn, and a pair of old boots and ſhoes. Mr. Henry Rozer, near Alexandria, raiſed him, and ſold him laſt fall, and he is well acquainted in that neighbourhood and Alexandria; he has been ſeen in the Federal City, and I believe paſſes as a free man, and ſays he obtained his freedom from Mr. H. Rozer. It is very probable he has changed his name and dreſs, and procured a paſs or certificate of his being free. Whoever will deliver the ſaid runaway to his maſter ſhall receive the above reward, or THIRTY DOLLARS for ſecuring him in any gaol, ſo that his maſter gets him again.

Among the cattle are ſome good work ſteers, and a number of young ſteers and heifers fit for ſlaughter. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock preciſely. Terms ready money.

WILLIAM HENRY HALL, Executor.

Weſt river, Auguſt 27, 1796.

Valuable property for ſale on credit.

To be SOLD, at PUBLIC AUCTION, if not diſpoſed of before at private ſale, on Monday the 17th day of October next, if fair, if not the ſale to begin the firſt fair day after, on the premiſes, the ſale to begin at 11 o'clock, and continue from day to day until the whole is ſold, the following property, to wit:

THAT valuable and beautifully ſituated FARM, that has been occupied for a number of years laſt paſt by REZIN ROWLES, deceaſed, lying on Kent-Iſland, in Queen-Anne's county, ſituated on the Cheſapeake Bay, oppoſite to and in full view of the city of Annapolis; its ſituation is equalled by few and ſurpaſſed by none in the ſtate of Maryland for its beauty and healthineſs; the ſoil is fertile and well adapted to wheat, Indian corn, tobacco, and graſs, it is conveniently ſituated between the waters of the Bay and Beaver Neck creek, ſo as to be formed into a peninſula, that a ſmall proportion of fencing encloſes the whole farm; it now ſtands divided into three fields, four lots, and an excellent apple orchard, with many other kind of fruit trees; it has other advantages of a ſmall piece of ſalt marſh in each field, and abounds with good ſprings from one end of the farm to the other; its neighbouring waters afford the greateſt abundance of the beſt of fiſh, oyſters and wild fowl, in their reſpective ſeaſons, it is improved with a large and new dwelling houſe, with a brick front to the Bay, two ſtory high, and 48 feet long, joined by a croſs building with a ſouth front of 46 feet long, with a commodious kitchen at the eaſt end 28 feet long, a good negro quarter divided into proper lodging rooms, &c. a large barn, ſtable room for about 20 horſes, and other neceſſary out buildings. The advantages ariſing to this farm from its vicinity to the city of Annapolis (it being only 7 meaſured miles) are too obvious to need mentioning, and its other advantages and conveniences are too numerous to be inſerted in an advertiſement; there will be a large crop of wheat ſeeded on this farm the enſuing fall, and poſſeſſion will be given to the purchaſer, if any, on the 1ſt day of January next, but ſhould the ſaid farm remain unſold after the 17th of October next, it will be to be rented for the enſuing year.

Will alſo be offered for ſale, at the ſame time, 25 acres of valuable timber land, lying within a ſmall diſtance of the aforeſaid farm, and on a deep landing on Coxe's creek, the waters of which run within three hundred yards of the ſaid farm. Good titles will be given to the ſaid lands.

Alſo will be ſold, at the ſame time and place, all the valuable perſonal property that belonged to the ſaid Rezin Rowles, deceaſed, conſiſting of a number of valuable negroes of both ſexes and all ages, houſehold furniture of all kinds, a large and valuable ſtock of horned cattle, horſes, hogs and ſheep, farming utenſils of all kinds, Indian corn, pork, and many other articles too tedious to be enumerated here. The terms will be eaſy and particularly made known at the time of ſale. The lands will be ſhewn to any perſon deſirous to view them before the time of ſale, by Mr. Levin Rowles, now living on the aforeſaid farm, and negotiations may be entered into for any of the aforeſaid property any time previous to the time of public ſale with the ſubſcriber.

JOHN ROWLES, Adminiſtrator of REZIN ROWLES.

Airy Hill, Kent county, July 20, 1796.

THE ANNAPOLIS JOCKEY CLUB PURSE will be run for on Tueſday the 8th day of November next, for all ages. On the next day will be run for a colt's purſe, for three and four years old. Any perſon not a member may ſtart a horſe on paying two ſhillings in the pound entrance, and to ſtart each day preciſely at 12 o'clock.

The members are requeſted to meet at Mr. Wharfe's, at 11 o'clock on the firſt day's race.

RICHARD TOOTELL has left Annapolis to reſide in Baltimore; any perſon that has any claims will encloſe them to Mr. JAMES BAYDEN, Fountain-Inn, Baltimore, or to Mr. JOHN SHAW, Annapolis, who will forward them to him.

N. B. Being appointed by HELEN PACA, on the 5th of Auguſt, 1796, her attorney in fact, I offer to rent the undivided part of the lands of AQUILA PACA, late of Harford county, deceaſed.

I will ſell all my property in Annapolis.
